your professional mining farm sherpas great ventures need great guides.

with 20 years of experience in commercial building, and mining experience that begins in 2011, distributed hash is a trusted partner for all aspects of your mining farm buildout.

from proposals to budgeting, to contracts and management, we bring both planning and execution skills into a fast growing ecosystem that desperately needs both.

bringing deep experience building and operating in demanding conditions, we provide an unmatched quality of customer experience and have been described by our customers as, "the bitcoiner's hosting & mining company."

we take pride in that and are excited to show you precisely what that means.
